Two Members of TMS recently attended a meeting with representatives of the Office of Logistics to discuss a proposal made by this Staff that the Office of Logistics assume (1) responsibility for Agency regulations [redacted] Penalty Indicia Mail, and [redacted] relating to Postage Stamps and (2) certain operating responsibilities under such regulations which previously have been assigned to the Office of the Comptroller. This proposal was made on the premise that the Office of Logistics has primary responsibility for the matters involved. The Office of Logistics has now agreed to assume responsibility for these regulations. This Staff has turned over to the Office of Logistics a tentative draft of a regulation (and a draft of a related transmittal letter to AEB/S) which had been prepared by this Staff to supersede regulations [redacted] before we had concluded that the subject matter of the regulation might more properly be considered the responsibility of the Office of Logistics.
